

Preliminary Results from First Health Questionnaire

THE FOOTBALL PLAYERS HEALTH STUDY
AT HARVARD UNIVERSITY

So far, over 3,500 former NFL players have taken our first health and wellness questionnaire, helping to shape and direct the future of our Study. The following graphics are a snapshot of results thus far.

POSITIONS OF RESPONDENTS

Respondents could select multiple positions

- 23% Offensive Line
- 11% Running Back
- 11% Wide Receiver
- 8% Tight End
- 5% Quarterback

- 17% Linebacker
- 16% Defensive Back
- 14% Defensive Line

- 26% Special Teams
- 6% Kicker/Punter

TOP 5 MOST COMMON HEALTH CONDITIONS AMONG RESPONDENTS

QUALITY OF LIFE AND PAIN AMONG RESPONDENTS

Pain & Daily Life

A majority of respondents report pain interferes in day-to-day life

Quality of Life

Four out of five respondents report good to excellent quality of life

Overall Health

Three-quarters of respondents report good to excellent overall health

Numbers based on self-reported data from participants.