

Example Results

Below are examples of the type of results you will receive following the survey. This network sociogram is an illustration of the map that will be generated based on the names and information you enter into the survey. The diagram depicts you, all of the people in your network, and how these people may or may not be connected to one another. Please note that the images below do not include real data.*

You will also receive the table that is included below. This table describes the size of your network and descriptive information about the people you have included in your network.

Social Network Characteristics	Your Network*
Size of your network	10 People
Density of ties in your network	50%
Percent who are family	50%
Percent who are teammates	50%
Percent who eat a healthy diet	50%
Percent who exercise regularly	50%
Percent who drink alcohol heavily	50%
Percent who take performance enhancing drugs or supplements	50%
Percent who have health problems	50%

You will also receive a separate document with information on why this research is relevant to your health, and how you can best utilize your personal results.